3rd. Annual Horse Show Next Thursday, Friday

$1500 In Premiums; Woman's Club to Sponsor Program

Murray and Calloway county will enjoy the third annual horse show next week, September 20-21, when local horses and those from out of the county and state will be on exhibition for two nights in Cutchin Stadium at Murray State College. Over $1500 in premiums are being offered and some 4000 persons are expected to attend. This show is sponsored by the Murray Woman's Club with the cooperation and encouragement of the local business and individuals. Shows start at 8 o'clock p.m.

Show Grown to Big Event
This show has grown from a very small beginning in the local high school stadium to a large attraction that is featured in one of the largest stadiums in Kentucky. For several years the Woman's Club has brought to the community one feature of special attraction that has added to the entertainment of all. It has been a special contribution to the interests and the welfare of the city.

Entries Arriving Daily
Mrs. Whit Innes, finance chairman, and Mrs. C. C. Farmer, chairman of the horse show, stated today that entries have been received from horsemen in Tennessee, Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, and numerous places in Kentucky. Calloway horses will be an unusual interest in the show. There will be two divisions in the Calloway Show—event for the juvenile horses, and another for the ordinary pleasure type horse.

Two Classes in Calloway
There are entries here in both classes. Ollie Brown, Will Broach, George Hart, Jack Sharborough, Bill Hood, Libburn Hule, Fritz McReynolds, Lawton Alexander, Walter Miller, Gingles Wallis, Dave Hopkins, Billie Kelly, and James Key have been mentioned as having horses that might be entered in the pleasure class. Dr. F. E. Crawford, Mrs. George Baker, and Thomas Banks are quoted as entering in the fine classes.

Children Will Enter
Children will ride in the show, too. Miss Jackie Sharborough, Miss Nancy Wolfson, A. W. Simmons, Jr., William Hopkins, and Billie Bruce have indicated they will ride. Misses Ann Brown and Mary Anna Hule, who are experienced show riders, will do some special class riding. Tents are being rented for the horses the two nights here. Special box seats are being offered to those who want them by Mrs. Hershey Corn and Mrs. J. I. Hosick, and reserve seats are being sold downtown by Miss Charlotte Owen. Catalogs giving all the information will be distributed early in the week and the premium list enclosed.

IT'S THE TELEPHONE RUSH. Every night thousands of service men and women dash to the nearest telephones to talk with families and friends at home.

Most of the Long Distance calls from camps and naval stations are crowded into a few short hours.

Many circuits are likely to be crowded at that time and it helps a lot when you keep the lines clear from 7 to 10 for service men and women.

Sites For T.B. Units to Be Chosen Next Spring

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 11.—With 24 communities competing for the five proposed new tuberculosis hospitals, Joshua B. Everett, chairman of the State Sanatoria Board, said late today it probably will be the first of next year before choices can be made.

Everett is expected to call a meeting in a week or so of the full board.

"The board can hardly visit more than one place a day," he said.

September 10 was the final date for application for sites.

First District towns making applications for the hospitals are: Greenville, Princeton, Paducah, Madison, Hickman, Hopkinsville, Mayfield, Dawson Springs, Owensboro and Earlinton.

Percy Brashear, of Crittenden county, who pastured all his livestock on 15 acres of tobacco, declared it surpassed all other small grain.

It takes 400 gallons of 100 octane gasoline to keep a four-motored Flying Fortress in the air for one hour.

ENSIGN C. F. BROACH ON SOUTH PACIFIC

Ensign Charles Fred Broach, U.S.N., writes from a ship in the South Pacific that he rarely hears from home. He was a student of Murray State, and a son of Mrs. Letitia Broach, Coldwater, N.Y. He has written a letter to the editor who is his cousin and good friend. Parts of the letter are quoted.

Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif. Saturday Night, Sept. 2

Dear Mother:

I would have written sooner but I couldn't since I am busy and it is a little different out floating in something as large as the Pacific.

I didn't stay at — long enough to get to see Harry and Georgia. I went by where Harry works. I mean the town.

I have done quite a bit of sailing in the Pacific. Can't say where I was on several ships before I got assigned to my own. The address tells the type. I can't say more.

I have received very little mail, because of changing so much. I hope to start getting it regularly now. I have heard from home only once. I believe my letters are getting home all right. I know mother worries about me lots. She and Ray are my only worries. I never think of myself.

This terrible thing will be over some time and we will come proudly home. All I hope is, we fix it so there won't be Mother one in 20 years.

Hope you enjoyed your vacation. I am going to take one when I get back home.

News is scarce, so I will close wishing every one good night and good health. Don't forget to write. Yours until victory, Ensign C. F. Broach

POSTMASTER GENERAL LISTS RULES FOR MAILING XMAS GIFTS TO OVERSEAS MEN

The following rules and information for mailing of Christmas gifts for Army and Navy personnel overseas are compiled by Information Service, Post Office Department, was released this morning by Harry I. Sledd, Murray postmaster.

"Save strong string and box material and start to plan shopping. Postmaster General Frank C. Walker advises Americans in announcing the rules for mailing of Christmas gifts for Army and Navy personnel overseas.

This year the Christmas mailing period for both Army and Navy overseas forces is the same—September 15 to October 15. After October 15 no gift parcel may be mailed to a soldier without the presentation of a written request from him.

The great demands upon shipping and the need for giving preference to arms, munitions, medicine and food is the prime reason for the early mailing date. Moreover, gift parcels must travel great distances to reach Army and Navy personnel who are located at remote points, and frequently the transfer of large numbers to new stations necessitates forwarding the packages and additional time is required.

The response that our people made last year during the overseas mailing period demonstrated that they will cooperate in any measure designed for the welfare of our armed forces personnel. Mr. Walker said. It is not easy to concentrate on Christmas gifts in the midst of warm weather here at home but our people recognized the need, and because they want the men and women who are absent from their home to know that they are not forgotten at home, they took pains to assure prompt delivery of Christmas gifts.

I know that our people will observe the overseas mailing schedule once more this year but I do wish to stress this fact: More care must be taken in wrapping and packing parcels securely and addressing them clearly and correctly.

It is not a pleasant thing to visit a postal concentration center and see the numbers of Christmas parcels which will never reach servicemen and servicewomen. Post office personnel have orders to do everything they can to effect delivery of such gifts because we know how important they are for the happiness of the armed forces. Too frequently, nothing can be done.

"I am sorry that anyone ever mentioned that the size of a shoe box is the approximate limit for packages intended for gift mailing overseas. Unhappily many people became convinced that a shoe box is the best possible container. We must be mindful that these gifts must travel far, with shipping space crowded. If gifts are to be protected in transit they must be packed in boxes made of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard, reinforced with strong gummed paper tape or tied with strong twine. If both tape and strong twine are used, so much the better. If the outer wrapper is crushed and this is likely to happen—the loss of contents may be prevented if fiberboard boxes are wrapped in heavy paper.

Parcels were unable to deliver many parcels which families and friends sent to men and women overseas last year because they were crushed in transit and the gift and the outside wrapper became separated. We would have been able to make delivery if the address had been shown on the inside wrapper."

Advise that everyone write the address of the sender and address inside the package as well as outside.

Christmas gifts mean much to our people overseas. Because strong twine, heavy paper and parcels are difficult to come by, real help in making delivery of gifts possible I urge those at home to begin saving these materials now. As time goes on they are going to become even more scarce than they are now.

Among the more important rules for Christmas mailings to the armed forces overseas are the following:

The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas Mailing" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer. When combination packages are made up of such items as miscellaneous toilet articles, handkerchiefs, soap, etc., the contents should be tightly packed so that they will not become loosened in transit and damage the contents or the cover. Hard candies, nuts, caramels, including those covered with chocolate, cookies, fruit cake, and chocolate bars individually wrapped in waxed paper should be enclosed in inner boxes of wood, metal or cardboard.

Perishable goods, such as fruits and vegetables that may spoil, are prohibited. Intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

Relative and friends who know that the personnel in the armed services to whom they plan to send gifts are at far distant points should begin to mail their packages on the opening day—September 15—of the mailing period. Late mailings, causing concentration of great numbers of packages in the final days of the mailing period, threatened to defeat the program. It is stressed that success can be assured, with the limited personnel and facilities available, only if the public gives cooperation through prompt mailings of the overseas gift parcels from the opening of the mailing period.

This year the Christmas mailing period for both Army and Navy overseas forces is the same—September 15 to October 15. After October 15 no gift parcel may be mailed to a soldier without the presentation of a written request from him.

The great demands upon shipping and the need for giving preference to arms, munitions, medicine and food is the prime reason for the early mailing date. Moreover, gift parcels must travel great distances to reach Army and Navy personnel who are located at remote points, and frequently the transfer of large numbers to new stations necessitates forwarding the packages and additional time is required.

The response that our people made last year during the overseas mailing period demonstrated that they will cooperate in any measure designed for the welfare of our armed forces personnel. Mr. Walker said. It is not easy to concentrate on Christmas gifts in the midst of warm weather here at home but our people recognized the need, and because they want the men and women who are absent from their home to know that they are not forgotten at home, they took pains to assure prompt delivery of Christmas gifts.

I know that our people will observe the overseas mailing schedule once more this year but I do wish to stress this fact: More care must be taken in wrapping and packing parcels securely and addressing them clearly and correctly.

It is not a pleasant thing to visit a postal concentration center and see the numbers of Christmas parcels which will never reach servicemen and servicewomen. Post office personnel have orders to do everything they can to effect delivery of such gifts because we know how important they are for the happiness of the armed forces. Too frequently, nothing can be done.

"I am sorry that anyone ever mentioned that the size of a shoe box is the approximate limit for packages intended for gift mailing overseas. Unhappily many people became convinced that a shoe box is the best possible container. We must be mindful that these gifts must travel far, with shipping space crowded. If gifts are to be protected in transit they must be packed in boxes made of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard, reinforced with strong gummed paper tape or tied with strong twine. If both tape and strong twine are used, so much the better. If the outer wrapper is crushed and this is likely to happen—the loss of contents may be prevented if fiberboard boxes are wrapped in heavy paper.

Parcels were unable to deliver many parcels which families and friends sent to men and women overseas last year because they were crushed in transit and the gift and the outside wrapper became separated. We would have been able to make delivery if the address had been shown on the inside wrapper."

Advise that everyone write the address of the sender and address inside the package as well as outside.

Christmas gifts mean much to our people overseas. Because strong twine, heavy paper and parcels are difficult to come by, real help in making delivery of gifts possible I urge those at home to begin saving these materials now. As time goes on they are going to become even more scarce than they are now.

Among the more important rules for Christmas mailings to the armed forces overseas are the following:

The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas Mailing" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer. When combination packages are made up of such items as miscellaneous toilet articles, handkerchiefs, soap, etc., the contents should be tightly packed so that they will not become loosened in transit and damage the contents or the cover. Hard candies, nuts, caramels, including those covered with chocolate, cookies, fruit cake, and chocolate bars individually wrapped in waxed paper should be enclosed in inner boxes of wood, metal or cardboard.

Perishable goods, such as fruits and vegetables that may spoil, are prohibited. Intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

Relative and friends who know that the personnel in the armed services to whom they plan to send gifts are at far distant points should begin to mail their packages on the opening day—September 15—of the mailing period. Late mailings, causing concentration of great numbers of packages in the final days of the mailing period, threatened to defeat the program. It is stressed that success can be assured, with the limited personnel and facilities available, only if the public gives cooperation through prompt mailings of the overseas gift parcels from the opening of the mailing period.

Our Congratulations Go To Murray

(PADUCAH SUN-DEMOCRAT)

The people of Murray are most fortunate, since they reside in the first city in Kentucky to receive electric power directly from the great Kentucky Dam.

The benefits that the people of Murray have enjoyed through municipal ownership of the electric distribution system now will be increased through the use of cheap hydroelectric power. It gives Murray the advantage of being able to boast that it has a great reservoir of power to offer any interested in power at low cost.

The Murray leaders who took the steps that led to municipal ownership of the light system were far-sighted. We hope that Paducah officials will adopt that same far-sighted policy soon.

Over the spring was built a house some 12 feet above the water. The walls were built of rock and the top of the house was made of concrete 21 inches thick. The structure was made of heavy wood. The structure was ideal for a self cooling milk and butter house.

Mrs. Johnnie Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Nollie Smith who visited by the bedside of their sister, Mrs. Bell Burgett, of Oakland, Ky., have returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Nollie Smith returned to their home at Murray first of the week. Mrs. Simmons didn't return until Friday afternoon. Mrs. Simmons met all her brothers except one and all her sisters and many old friends. Visits Beautiful Spring

While visiting with my sister in Oakland, Ky., I visited a beautiful spring. A path led to the spring with surrounding walls some 20 feet high of solid rock. The bottom of the spring was made of rock and there could be seen two small holes through which the water bubbled up. The water was as clear as crystal but was limestone water, therefore, I had to refuse it.

Why Farmers Should Buy & Keep War Bonds

by R. R. Renne
President
Montana State College

BUILDING financial reserves, paying off debts, helping to fight dangerous inflation, and patriotism, are all good reasons why farmers should buy and hold War Bonds.

A good financial reserve is an important part of sound farm management. War Bonds are safe investments and are almost as liquid as cash. Thus, they comprise an excellent financial reserve for unexpected needs and emergencies. After the last war prices fell rapidly, as they have after every major war, and thousands of American farmers lost their farms because they could not weather the economic storm. No other factor is more essential for continued satisfactory farm operations, through good years and bad, than adequate financial reserves.

In addition to unexpected needs for emergencies, farmers need adequate reserves to finance repairs, replacements and improvements around the farm. Difficulties in obtaining needed materials and labor for these expenditures cause farm buildings and equipment to wear out faster during the war period than in peacetime.

If farmers can wait until sometime after the war ends to make these repairs and improvements, their dollars should go further than they will immediately following the war, and better quality materials will probably be available.

Moreover, too rapid or forced cashing of War Bonds immediately after the war could create a serious situation and contribute to post-war inflation. Also, holding Bonds to maturity makes it possible for the farmer to increase his investment by one-fourth through accumulated interest. Still another reason for having a good reserve in the form of War Bonds is that funds will be available for the boys when they return to assist them in getting established in peacetime pursuits.

Many farmers still have long-term mortgage debt outstanding against their property.

Investment in War Bonds now makes it possible for the farmer to help finance the war and at the same time accumulate the funds which will enable him to liquidate his debt in a lump sum after the war.

Systematic purchase of War Bonds furnishes a very orderly and sure way of accumulating the necessary funds for liquidation of debt that requires large lump sums for settlement.

The extremely heavy expenditures required to carry on modern warfare create high purchasing power, which combined with shortages of materials and labor, cause serious inflationary threats. Most farmers can remember the very high prices which occurred during the last war and the very low prices and depression which followed.

With the present scale of operations much greater than during the first war, it is imperative that widespread inflation in general prices and in land be prevented. War Bonds help reduce inflationary pressure in commodity markets and, at the same time, help finance the war.

Building financial reserves, paying off debts and fighting inflation, comprise adequate reasons for buying War Bonds. However, there is still another major reason why farmers should invest in War Bonds until it hurts and this is the patriotic reason. We are engaged in a very serious struggle to preserve democracy and our way of life. The sooner we can win this war the fewer lives of our sons and daughters will be lost. Our youth are making great sacrifices on the battlefronts all over the world, and it is up to each one of us on the homefront to give all we have. Large sums of money are needed for winning the war and if we will all buy War Bonds to the limit of our resources voluntarily, we can help finish the war at an early date.

Murray Tigers To Open Grid Season Friday Night

Kickoff To Be at 8 P. M. Friday on Holland Field

Murray High School will raise its curtain on the 1944 grid season Friday night at 8 o'clock on Holland Field when Coach Ty Holland's Tigers will play host to the Huntingdon, Tenn. High school eleven in both school's opening tilt of the season.

Unable to fill the September 20 open date, Coach Holland thought it wise to schedule the early game regardless of the fact that the squad as a whole is not quite ready for the fill-in game.

Coach Holland was in no happy mood yesterday afternoon when a Ledger & Times reporter cautiously approached the mentor for a probable starting line-up for Friday night's game. He was muttering under his breath about the "pesky injuries that will prevent him from putting his entire strength on the field Friday and he announced the fact that a few of his men "are just too sure of starting post."

The coach stated that Lee Ross Melugin, Gene Carroll, and Jim Ramsey were the victims of injuries, some sustained on the grid field and others outside football practice. Later in the interview, however, the veteran coach actually broke into a smile when questions were asked about the possibility of a win Friday night. "Guess we will win alright," he said, "but some of my boys are going to have to produce more than they have shown in practice if they wish to stay on the first eleven."

Little doubt has been dug out of the "bucket" pertaining to Huntingdon's strength even after a Ledger & Times reporter made a telephone call to the Tennessee city last night. The only facts brought out were that Jimmy Joyner, Billy Moody, Larry Wyatt, and J. C. Butler were the main cogs of the visiting outfit.

Probable starters for the Murray Tigers are as follows:

ENDS—Hugh Giles, 145 pounds; Fred Saunders, 162 pounds.

TACKLES—Robert Moser, 150 pounds; Kenneth Gallaway, 150 pounds.

GUARDS—Billy Thurman, 145 pounds; Jack Ward, 116 pounds.

CENTER—William Thompson, 150 pounds.

QUARTERBACK—Eddie Shroat, 147 pounds.

HALFBACKS—Tom Covington.

S. J. RUSKJER IS NAMED MEMBER OF NATIONAL ASSN.

Distinctive Honor To Murray and Paducah Citizen

A real honor has been accorded S. A. Ruskjer, administrator of the Williams Massey Memorial Hospital for the past nine years. A few days ago, he received information from the American College of Hospital Administrators, acquainting him with the fact that he has been made a member of that exclusive organization. This honor has previously come to only 12 Kentucky citizens during the past 25 years.

The American College of Hospital Administrators is recognized as one of the most difficult colleges in which to become a member. The membership granted to Mr. Ruskjer is based upon his record made in administering hospitals in various parts of the country during the past 30 years, plus successfully passing a five-hour written and a two-hour oral examination in Chicago, recently. The induction will be at a special convocation service which will be held at Cleveland, Ohio, on October 1.

Mr. Ruskjer is also administrator of the Riverside Hospital, Paducah, and president of the Kentucky State Hospital Association and president of the Western Kentucky Hospital Council. At the present time, Mr. Ruskjer is in Chicago, taking a special course in Hospital Administration at the University of Chicago. Following completion of this course he will attend the National American Hospital Association Convention at Cleveland, Ohio.

What People Once Threw Away

Yes, it is Waste Paper. It is practically everywhere. It files that are long since dead, forgotten in cellars, attics, factories and warehouses. It accumulates daily. Once nobody paid much attention to it. Now it is needed to win the war and keep business going. You probably have some and getting rid of it will be a benefit. It will certainly be a benefit if you intend to save new paper because without waste paper, enough new paper can't be made.

Don't slow up the war effort of business activity! Get that Waste Paper to Waste Paper Headquarters on West Main in the building formerly used by Pryor Motor Co.

Seventy-three per cent of all workers in war plants depend on automobiles to get to work.

Mrs. R. G. Williams of Somerset, chairman of the women's division of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, is scheduled to address the convention. State Campaign Chairman Harry Lee Waterfield, of Clinton, and J. Glasgow and Lawrenceburg are the most frequently mentioned as the places to hold the opening party rally.

100 County Chairmen Named

"Reports we have received from throughout the state on the registration which just closed, have been gratifying from the Democratic point of view and indicate that a lot of excellent ground work has already been accomplished for the campaign," Waterfield declared.

First District Chairmen Named
With campaign chairmen named in all fourteen counties, Harry Lee Waterfield, Democratic State Campaign Chairman, has completed his organization for the First Congressional District.

Two members from the first district have been appointed on the finance committee for the state by Chairman Waterfield. Those appointed were Roy Shebourne, Paducah attorney, and Clarence Broadbent of Cadiz.

Dalton, of Fulton, and Kent Hamby, of Hickman, co-chairman; Marshall, Roy Boyd, of Benton; Benton, Graves, Tolbert Lyles, of Mayfield; Calloway, Dewey Rasmale, of Murray; McCracken, Jack Nelson, of Paducah; Christian, Ben Adams, of Hopkinsville; Trigg, Judge Robert Blakeley, of Cadiz; Crittenden, John Wilbur, of Marion; Livingston, Ulan Rammage, of Burns; Caldwell, Gordon Lisanby, of Princeton, and Lyon, Ed Jones, of Kuttawa.

Poultry May Become Major Farm Product

There are so many areas in Kentucky that are particularly adaptable to the production of poultry, that a number of farm leaders in the state are expressing opinions that sometime in the not too far distant future, poultry products will become one of the major commodities produced on Kentucky farms.

It and when that time arrives the Kentucky Extension Service will have played a big hand in bringing it about. The men in charge of the poultry department have already made a major contribution to this development. The short courses they are holding at the University (like the one just completed) are leading to the production of quality poultry products.

Mrs. Mason's Mother In Believe It Or Not

Mrs. Kress is the mother of Mrs. W. H. (Dr. Ora) Mason of Murray, and has visited here many times. The story was sent to this paper by Mrs. Walter Prieskorn, 4121 W. Michigan Avenue, Wayne, Mich.

Absentee Voters May Decide Election State Campaign Manager Declares

Geo. W. Scott, Father of Mrs. L. J. Horton, Dies Thursday A.M.

George Winfield Scott, 74, father of Mrs. L. J. Horton, Murray, died at his home, Paducah, Route 1, Thursday morning, September 7. He had been ill for 16 months. He was an elder in Millburn Chapel Presbyterian Church and was its Sunday School superintendent for a number of years before he became ill.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Ada Harris Scott; one daughter, Mrs. L. J. Horton, Murray; three sons, Paul and Grady, Scott, McCracken, county; Stephen Scott, Center Line, Mich.; five grandchildren, two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. in Millburn Chapel Presbyterian church. Interment was in Scott cemetery.

"The importance of taking such steps as are necessary to place a ballot in the hands of every soldier and war worker who are now away from Kentucky cannot be over emphasized in the coming campaign," according to Harry Lee Waterfield, Clinton, Democratic State Campaign Chairman.

"It is entirely possible that the votes of the service men and others using absentee ballots will decide the result of the November election in Kentucky," Waterfield said.

Waterfield pointed out that approximately 400,000 Kentuckians are now away from their homes, either in the armed services or engaged in war work.

A drive is already under way in many counties of the state to make a canvass of absentee voters and to see that applications for ballots are made available to them either through the Army or Navy or direct from the Secretary of State.

Applications for absentee voters to obtain ballots are available at State Campaign Headquarters and more than 125,000 such applications have already been mailed out by the state committee.

What People Once Threw Away

Yes, it is Waste Paper. It is practically everywhere—in files that are long since dead, forgotten in cellars, attics, factories and warehouses. It accumulates daily. Once nobody paid much attention to it. Now it is needed to win the war and keep business going. You probably have some and getting rid of it will be a benefit. It will certainly be a benefit if you intend to use new paper because without waste paper, enough new paper can't be made.

Don't slow up the war effort or business activity! Get that Waste Paper to Waste Paper Headquarters on West Main in the building formerly used by Fryer Motor Co.

Now it's Army Nurse's Aides. American Red Cross nurse's aides with at least 150 hours of volunteer service to their credit are now serving in certain Army hospitals as full-time paid employees. Their duties are similar to those they performed as volunteers. They receive $75 a month and, in addition, are furnished food and living quarters by the Army.

Asked why they became Army Nurse's Aides, many of these women, usually glancing quickly at a picture of a man in uniform, will answer, "Well, you see, my husband is in England," "in Burma," "on a destroyer."

WAR PRISONERS MAKE PIE

STORY-TELLER...
FROM
Army Back!

...there's a "laugh-in-bloom" every evening that Louisville Times readers wouldn't miss for the world!

HARRY BLOOM... The Louisville Times' "Off-the-Record" raconteur, knows more stories than the proverbial traveling salesman. By mailbag, telephone and personal call, bons mots twinkle into Harry's office daily. Bloom's only regret is that so many stories are "out-of-bounds" ... a bit on the shady side, or apt to prove painful to someone. These jokes are cached "for the book," to be compiled when time moses them with anonymity. From a lifetime in Louisville ... and a rich background of thirty-three years in the business, Harry could absent-mindedly drop down at any newspaper desk and turn out a sparkling good day's work. Graduate of Vanderbilt University with a B.S. degree, he is married and has two lovely daughters.

Like his hair, Mr. Bloom parts his activities neatly on the side ... his main job being that of a serious editorial writer for The Times. Only a sideline is his widely known "Off-the-Record." Seated behind his joke-strewn desk, you could easily mistake Harry Bloom for an M.D. If he hauled out a stethoscope you'd let him listen to your heart. The only difference is that when you have "cashed" your story, he'll reward you with a big, soul-satisfying laugh ... instead of the usual prescription. That's why readers urge their friends to "turn that story in to Harry Bloom." Many become regular contributors ... purely for the love of seeing a good story circulate.

More fruitful than a "Planter's Punch" are "Off-the-Record" moments in

A Gold Star Mother Makes Her Contribution

I have wondered about parents who have lost sons in this war and tried to imagine how they could feel toward the world affairs today, but had never felt free to ask because of the tenderness felt for their broken hearts. Recently I had the experience of sitting one rainy afternoon in company with a widowed mother whose sailor son had died in a Japanese prison camp.

The conversation came about by accident, for she had dropped into a hotel to wait for the rain to check. She carried a daily newspaper in her hand and handed it to me to read an article about the reorientation program that is being carried on in the States for the returned fighters.

Once a school teacher, always a teacher and they say you can tell a school teacher anywhere she is seen, so both of us having had that experience, soon talked freely. She wanted to talk about the presidential election. I was interested, too, so we exchanged opinions. In the conversation, I remarked, "You have a son in the service?" after seeing a one-star pin on her dress.

"My son is dead. That is a gold star," she answered, and the tears glistened on her cheek before she could catch them with her handkerchief.

Then she told me how her seventeen year old son, in order to allow his older sister the chance of going to college, volunteered for the Navy in 1940 with the expectation of getting his college training there. His father died just as the 2 children were ready for college. He, instead of being sent to college, was sent to the South Pacific and was there in the first battles and was captured by the Japs early in the war and died a prisoner in May, 1942.

I was interested to hear how she felt about the political affairs. She was sincere in her opinion that it would be a tragedy to "change our Commander in Chief at this part of the war, but under other conditions, I think it would be better to have a new man in the president's office." She felt bitter that her son had been cheated out of an education and life before he was nineteen, and took the blame for letting him take such a route for his learning, but still hopes that maybe he will turn up after the war even though he has been declared dead by the War Department.

She has returned to the teaching profession since the son's death and finds comfort in doing her part in helping other boys and girls in their school work. She and her daughter will graduate from college in the same class next summer. Here is the spirit that one must admire. She finds solace in doing for herself, and buries her troubles in service to others.

A Sailor's Wife Is Girl Scout Leader

Another brave woman I know is the wife of a sailor who is in the Hawaiian Islands. These women are not the only women that I know who are helping in the affairs of today, but they happen to be close to my heart and deserve notice. They are a challenge to all womankind for their heart strings and homes have been touched deeply.

This young woman, the mother of an attractive daughter in the city school, has spent long lonesome hours waiting for news from her husband. There have been days when "I got so low in the dumps that I thought I couldn't go on," was her expression as we chatted at the school opening.

She is not going to sit and hold her hands while this world is full of deeds that need doing. Today she has volunteered to be leader of a local Girl Scout Troop and is signing up for a responsible job that will demand that she be on the move. What nobler thing could she do than spend her time doing for young girls? She is building character, doing a worthy work that is closely kin to religion and giving the best she has to the youth of her community. We need more scout leaders, for both boys and girls. We need more boys and girls in scout troops. Wouldn't it be good to have more volunteers for this kind of work, and wouldn't it be ideal to have all eligible youths in our county enrolled in scouting?

Don't Expect The Boys To Come Rushing Home

PADUCAH SUN-DEMOCRAT

No one can complain with justification against the War Department's plan to release men from the armed forces on a basis of "justice and impartiality." The factors to be considered—length of service, service overseas, combat credit and parenthood status—provide for a measure of fairness which will guarantee that the men who deserve to get back home first will come home first.

However, don't expect the boys to come rushing home as soon as the war with Germany is over. The War Department warns that the task of keeping watch over the conquered nations in Europe and of carrying forward the accelerated war against the Japanese will take most of those now in the service. And the Navy declares that it will not start demobilization until the Nips have been nipped, which is a wise decision.

The best thing for those of us on the home front to do is to go to work and to do it well. Let us make the most of the service men who are good homes, clean communities and a fine country to come home to.

Nothing short of all the gold and guts we've got will win this war, and he who falls short in either is short-changing the armed forces of the United States.

Freedom will not descend to a people; a people must raise themselves to freedom. It is a blessing to be earned before it can be enjoyed.—Tilton.

Our Attitude On Victory Day

Newspapers, advertisers, churches, and individuals are thinking and planning for our actions on the day when Germany is whipped. That day may not be far off—it could come before this gets into print. Commentators, writers, and analysts are predicting that the European war will, with good breaks, end by October 1st and with bad weather and other checks, will probably end in early 1945.

Whatever the time... what will we do? Will we consider that event as one for prayers of thanks—will we cry for joy—and go down on our knees in prayer to God? Will we spend the time riotously and in a fashion not indicative of the times we have endured?

(One church here has already announced a program for the occasion. Towns have publicly announced the schedule to be followed after the peace announcement is made.)

Here the civic council could make similar plans for our activities. We will want to rejoice—we will want to express our emotions in an acceptable manner. One thing we are sure of and that's this: Whatever we do, let's remember the cause of this war—Nations left God out of their plans—people became selfish and wrapped up in the pursuit of gain and power. We must remember that blood and lives have been spent.

And remembering these, we can pray a prayer of determination to live each day and practice the law given us in ancient times: "Love thy neighbor as thyself and do unto others as we would have them do to us." Our prayers will not be one of "Thank goodness it's over, and can get back to normal again. I can do as I please and plan my work to suit me and mine." We have in the past been interested in our own affairs and too little concerned with what happened to our neighbors.

Mrs. George S. Hart
Editor, Ledger & Times
Murray, Kentucky

Dear Mrs. Hart:

Quite belatedly, may I send my sincerest wishes for success in the newspaper field.

As a member of the Second Battalion at Murray, and one of TALENTS originators, as well as having at least one finger in the pie as regards the Woman's Club House—I feel almost like an old friend.

I distinctly remember a conversation we had, concerning the probability of Navy boys returning to Murray Campus in Post-War United States. This conversation has remained with me for many reasons—foremost because I have known that I will come back to Murray since my first week on the campus in recent correspondence with Dr. Richmond. I find that progressive education will be the key not for returning servicemen and service-women.

Once again, may I wish you success.

Sincerely,

James K. Petersen

100 Millionth Mailed at Camp

CAMP CAMPBELL, Ky., Sept. 2

(Sp.)—According to a War Department announcement received here today by the Post Public Relations Office, the 100 millionth check was mailed from the War Department Office of Dependency Benefits, Newark, N. J., this past week.

The ODB is that activity of the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, which administers nearly 7 million family allowance and Claim E allotment of pay accounts for 20 million soldiers and dependents.

The 100 millionth check—a monthly family allowance payment in the amount of $120—went to a soldier's wife and three children in San Francisco, Calif. The soldier, a Private, is overseas. The family formerly made their home in Bixby, Okla.

In accordance with the established policy of giving information on individual accounts only to the persons concerned, the ODB did not disclose the name of the recipient of the check, the 100 millionth to roll off the war agency's check-writing machines. These machines, fifty-two in number, write checks at the rate of 150 a minute, simultaneously proof reading each one against a punch card record. Aggregate disbursements in monthly payments to date total $5,525,901,393.

Mailing of the 100 millionth check marks the second anniversary of the first mailing of family allowance checks by the ODB.

Two years ago today, family allowance check No. 1 was mailed to a soldier's wife in Brooklyn, N. Y. This soldier's wife is still receiving her family allowance. Her first payment was among the 30,000 checks which were mailed to soldiers' families on September 1, 1942.

What Kentucky Farmers Are Doing

The No Creek Homemakers' club in Ohio county bought a $100 war bond with which to improve the club room after the war.

Joe Terrett of Fulton county picked approximately 1,000 bushels of early peaches from his orchard. Farmers in Robertson county met the labor shortage by exchanging work.

J. C. Little of Lee county reports that corn planted on land on which vetch was turned under did unusually well.

Several farmers in Metcalfe county are growing locust seedlings for setting next year. More than 300 acres of balho ry were harvested for seed in Garrard county.

Ninety-three homemakers in Anderson county have made dress forms to simplify their home sewing problems.

Because of increased milk production in Barren county, a cheese plant in Glasgow has found it necessary to enlarge.

A 4-H club room was established at Clopoint, Harlan county, through the cooperation of a coal company.

Between 20,000 and 30,000 pounds of vetch seed were harvested in Hopkins county this year.

I understand they have started grading rural roads in earnest. On the State Line road west of Hazel, I know they will not stop until they get to the Lassiter Hill Graveyard and then they will strike out West through Storey Chapel neighborhood to the county line; thence from county line near Bell City through Protomus section to the highway near Lynn Grove.

Now I know they will not trot these graders in to Murray every evening as any farmer in the neighborhood will take care of them over night, and might keep the operators while grading by their place. It is just unreasonable to trot in 10 or 15 miles which is unnecessary wear and tear.

We are always like this—we condemn and then we embrace. And it will be the established order until some one kicks us to pieces. It is the people's business and they are entitled to good service on our roads. The auto tax is great and the money collected should be administered in the strictest and most economical way.

We do not have any politics in road work. The gang that does the best job on our roads is the one we praise and when they do not do their duty we condemn.

I am anxious to hear from every one. As my "A" card will not allow me to go out and see all the work I will depend upon citizens' reports and some one will get a shirt each week if I get reports I have been affected with roadman for 60 years and get no better with age.

REMINISCENCE
MEATS: FATS: Red stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through G5 good indefinitely.

PROCESSED FOODS: Blue stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through L4 good indefinitely.

SUGAR: Sugar stamps 20 31, 32 and 33 each good for five pounds indefinitely. Sugar stamp 40, good for five pounds of cane sugar through February, next year.

GASOLINE: In 17 East Coast States, A-11 coupons, good through November 8. In States outside the East Coast Area, A-11 coupons, good through September 21.

SHOES: Airplane stamps 1 and 2, good indefinitely.

INCOME TAX: Quarterly payments due September 15.

Those Tire Inspection Records: Keep those tire inspection records until you get your new mileage rationing record form along with your new "A" book.

OPA says: Since discontinuance of periodic tire inspection last April, tire inspection records have been kept primarily as a record of gasoline issued each automobile, and will no longer be necessary when the new form is issued.

Loosen Lid On Store Rationing: The rationing of coal and wood stoves to consumers will end October 15, the War Production Board and OPA have announced, although rationing of oil and gas stoves will continue.

Supplies of coal and wood stoves have grown sufficiently since nationwide rationing started in August, 1942, to make continued rationing unnecessary.

Shoe Rationing Still With Us: Civilians cannot hope for an early end of shoe rationing, WPB says, unless imports of hides increase or unless there is a large rubout in military orders.

Hide shortages continue in spite of a large domestic kill of cows and calves. Heavy civilian and military consumption and decreased imports account for the short ages.

Please Don't Buy Our Shoes: The Australian Commonwealth Footwear Controller has asked American Army Authorities to limit purchases of civilian shoes by American troops, the Australian News and Information Bureau says.

Sales of footwear to American troops on leave have been seriously reducing supplies for Australian civilians, inasmuch as half of Australia's total output of boots and shoes already is going to Australian and Allied forces.

Returned "G.I. Joe" Get Jobs: More than 50,000 returned veterans of the present war were placed in jobs during July by the Veterans Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, thus making a total of more than a half million who have been placed.

Employers are offering veterans the cream of the job that come within their capacities, WMC says.

More Education, Mr. Vet (QM): If you think you are eligible for Education under the "G. I. Bill of Rights," file Veterans Administration Rehabilitation Form 1850 with They're Paying Off Mortgages: Farm Credit Administration borrowers with Land Bank and Commissioner Loans repaid four times more than they borrowed during the year ended June 30, thus making farmers' equities in their farms higher than in 25 years, the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration reported.

Farmers also have used their good farm income to buy War Bonds and add to their future payment funds in Federal Land Banks. They can use money in these funds to make payments on their farm loans in less favorable times. If farmers maintain these savings and don't waste them in farm land speculation such as prevailed after the first World War, they will be in better position to face reconversion from war to peace than at any time in the history of the Country, the Governor declared.

ROUND-UP: A prospective aspen in the shortage of smaller size truck tires will affect principally small trucks such as farm trucks and those used in delivering milk, bakery products and laundry, the Office of Defense Transportation says.

France has been the most important source of manpower, raw materials and industrial products among all the occupied Countries, the Foreign Economic Administration reports.

American troops in Australia have taught the Australians to like sweet corn, and the 1944 Australian crop will yield 25 million cobs, the Department of Commerce reports.

Housewives can help the national situation and their own family meals by using more onions in late September and early October when storage space will be scarce. WFA says.

While floods probably will last longer in normal times of food plenty home economists recommend eating them within the year, the Department of Agriculture says.

Murray Visitor Writes Letter Back to Friends

Brooks Bradley, Columbia printer, who was a visitor in the Ledger & Times office recently, has written a letter to folks here expressing especially good news. He at one time worked on the paper at Mayfield, and has friends in this county who will be pleased to hear from him. The letter is quoted: Columbia, Mo. Mrs. George Hart, Editor, Ledger & Times. Greetings and Best Wishes: Allow me to say that, according to officials of the Missouri School of Journalism, the Ledger & Times is in a class above the average county seat newspaper. The Daily Missourian used Journalism students, and each Monday morning one comes into my place for your paper. If you happen to know any students, boys or girls, who are coming this way to school, tell them to contact me, as I am always glad to meet the Lord's Chosen People from God's Country. As to enclosed clipping, you might pass it on to Elder J. R. Scott, or any of his family, if you see them. If you notice the spelling: We have a "CALLAWAY" County Missouri, while yours is spelled: "CALLAWAY." Both named for the same man!
